Buying Tickets Safely Online

---

Dear resident,

Imagine you're sitting in a café or pub, and somebody you've never met before offers you tickets for a sold-out concert or event that you really want to see. All you need to do is give them the cash there and then, and they'll drop them through your letterbox in a couple of days. You wouldn't really do this in a café or pub, would you? So why do it on social media, auction sites or fan forums? Because actually, it's no different.

This month, Get Safe Online is providing expert advice on buying tickets safely online. To learn more, simply visit our website in the link below or read the tips in the attached leaflet.
